Dear Oudkniss,

I trust this letter finds you well. It is with great enthusiasm that I submit my application for a Web Development Internship at the esteemed Ouedkniss company in Algiers.

Hailing from Djelfa, I am fully prepared and excited to relocate to Algiers to immerse myself in an environment where I can enhance my web development skills. I am currently honing my expertise in PHP and have embarked on learning Laravel, aware that it is the preferred backend language at Ouedkniss. Along with Laravel framework, I am proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and MySQL, and I have a fundamental and basic understanding of C, C++, Java, C, React JS, Docker and Git & Github usage.

In addition to my technical skills, also I am an avid Linux user and an advocate for open-source platforms, which reflects my adaptability and willingness to embrace industry-standard technologies.

In may 2024, I will graduate with a bachelor's degree in Web and Mobile App Development from the University of Zian Achour Djelfa. Concurrently, I am also pursuing a "Technicien Supérieur" degree in web development at INSFP Rahmania INTIC Alger. This demonstrates my unwavering commitment to continual professional development and a deeper understanding of my trade.

The internship at Ouedkniss is a critical step forward in my educational journey and an integral component of my "Technicien Supérieur" degree completion. More importantly, it resonates with my objective of becoming a well-rounded web developer, capable of contributing effectively in a professional setting.

I am eager to join Ouedkniss, contribute to your innovative projects, and learn from the accomplished team at your company.

I appreciate your time and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
